Course Description

This course will begin with an examination of the causes of the war, which include the failure of the Peace of Paris, the Great Depression, the rise of Hitler's Third Reich, and the successive diplomatic crises of the late 1930s. Next we will focus on the narrative history of the war. This section will include the great battles that punctuate the war as well as the mobilization of the material and human resources of the home front needed to fight a war on this scale. We will also consider the attempt by Hitler to construct his "New Order," an "order" which included the forced labor of millions and the mass murder of millions more, including six million Jews. Finally, we will attempt to evaluate the impact of the war.

4. Students will improve their ability to articulate their ideas both orally and in written form.

Course Reading

• The remainder of the course readings are available for download on Canvas.
Grades

• Exams (3): 60%. The course is divided into three units. Therefore, there will be three equally weighted exams. The exams will consist of objective questions to quiz your grasp of key concepts and actors, and subjective questions to measure your critical analysis. The objective questions will derive from class notes and the subjective questions from class discussions.

• Paper (1): 20%. Students will choose one option from several writing prompts. The five-page essay must include an introductory paragraph with a thesis statement, body paragraphs that support the thesis, a conclusion, and endnotes. The evidence to support your thesis must come from the two assigned textbooks (no outside sources, specifically internet sources, should be used). The papers must be typed in Times New Roman, 12-point font, double-spaced, and with standard one-inch margins. A grading rubric and more specific instructions will be posted on Canvas. In addition, you must follow the Academic Integrity Policy or face disciplinary measures.

• Research Presentation (1): 10%. Students will deliver a five-minute Power Point Presentation based on their research paper. More specific instructions, deadlines, and a grading rubric are available on Canvas.

• Quizzes (several): 10%. Students will be given quizzes on the course readings throughout the semester. Students can prepare for this assessment by reading the unit study guide that is posted on Canvas, which provides the student learning objectives and identifications. The quizzes will be given promptly at the start of class and CANNOT be made up. To earn full credit it is recommended that assignments are read prior to class and to attend all classes.

• Class Participation: Although this class is in a lecture setting and you will have dozens of classmates, you are expected to participate in class discussions. To ensure that you are best engaged and not a distraction to others, there will be a NO TECHNOLOGY policy, meaning laptops, cell phones, and other non-life sustaining electronic devices will be prohibited. Violation of this policy will result in a recorded absence and a request for you to leave the classroom.

• Attendance: All students are expected to attend all class meetings and be to class on time. A sign in sheet will be distributed at the beginning of class to record attendance. Students that arrive late will be marked absent. It is reasonable to expect that illness or other unexpected events will cause you to miss a class on occasion. A student may miss three (3) classes without penalty. However, each additional absence will result in a drop of 1/3 of a letter grade from your overall course grade.
