I. Course Description - - What is this course about?
This course covers East Asia and its interactions with Europe and the United States from 1800 to the present. We will focus primarily on China, Japan, Korea, and Vietnam and how each country responded to foreigners from the West. These countries frequently appear in current events, yet we often fail to understand why East Asia matters. Thus, our primary question in this course will be, “After 1800, what role did European countries and the United States have on East Asia’s development?”

In order to answer the above question, we will investigate the impact Christianity has had on East Asia; economic ties between the East and the West; military conflicts that have taken place; the roles of nationalism and communism in shaping East Asian government, culture, and identity; and finally the human rights violations that have occurred and continue to occur throughout the region, especially in China. By the end of the course, students should be able to point to significant historical events that have shaped East Asia into what it is today.

In addition to learning historical content about East Asia, students will practice historical thinking skills in order to make sense of the past. These skills help students better understand historical document by looking at who created the source and when (sourcing), what else was happening around the time the source came into existence (contextualizing), what is the most significant information contained in the source (close reading), and how to reconcile contradictions between sources that cover the same topic (corroborating).

II. Student Learning Outcomes (SLOs) - - Why am I in this course?
Students who spend time outside of class completing all reading and writing assignments, actively engage in the material, and think about and reflect on what they are reading and writing will be able to fulfill the following General Education Historical Perspectives Student Learning Outcomes:

1. Use a historical approach to analyze and contextualize primary and secondary sources representing divergent perspectives. (LG3)
2. Use evidence to interpret the past coherently, orally and/or in writing. (LG1)

In addition, students will be able to meet the following General Education Global Non-Western Perspectives Student Learning Outcomes:

3. Interpret or evaluate information on diverse cultures.
4. Describe interconnections among cultures, polities, and/or intellectual traditions of the world other than the dominant Euro-American ones.
5. Use diverse cultural frames of reference and alternative perspectives to analyze issues

And the course meets the following course-specific learning outcomes:

6. Trace the development of key events in the history of East Asian civilizations in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries.
7. Utilize information technology to find credible sources of information

III. Required Materials - - What do I need to buy?
1. Holcombe, Charles. *A History of East Asia: From the Origins of Civilization to the Twenty-
IV. Teaching Strategies - - How is this course different from others?

Teams
Students will complete most assignments and discussions in teams. The instructor will assign each student to a team at the beginning of the course. In general, every member of the team earns the same grade. However, I also rely on student feedback to adjust individual scores to reflect each student’s level of participation. Please get to know each other as best you can, as it will make our course more enjoyable for everyone.

V. Rules & Policies - - How do I respect myself and my classmates in this course?

Attendance
Even though this is an online course and we are not meeting at a scheduled time in a face-to-face classroom, log on to the course every day to check the Announcements & the Discussion Board. If unfortunate circumstances, such as illness or death in the family, prevent you from checking the course, please email me ASAP.

Make-up Work / Extra Credit
There is no make-up work or extra credit in this course. All assignments and due dates are listed on the syllabus. Students must plan ahead in order to manage the workload and complete all assignments. Anyone asking for special treatment will be referred to this policy.

Late Work
All deadlines are listed online. Failure to turn in work on time may result in a zero. Students who have special circumstances preventing them from turning in an assignment on time should, whenever possible, contact me before the due date.

Technology
Students are responsible for obtaining and maintaining reliable Internet access. Internet access is available at libraries, schools, hotels, and coffee shops worldwide. No extensions will be granted due to lack of Internet access. If you have a technical problem, then please contact me ASAP. If you wait until the day an assignment is due, you assume responsibility that a technical problem may prevent you from completing the work on time. Those who ask for an extension will be referred to this policy.

Academic Integrity
All students are expected to abide by the university’s Academic Integrity Policy. Please visit the following link: Academic Integrity Policy: http://sa.uncg.edu/dean/academic-integrity/ Students who violate this policy not only disrespect themselves, their classmates, and this university, but they also risk receiving a grade of F on an assignment, an F for the course, or being expelled.

E-mail Policy
In order to ensure a speedy reply, students must only use university e-mail accounts, and they should utilize email in a professional manner. To that end, make sure your message includes:

- the course number and section in the subject line, with a concise and clear description (e.g., HIS 216 – Family Emergency)
- a formal greeting (such as, “Dear Dr. Ross,”) and a formal closing (e.g., “Sincerely,”)
• your first and last name

If I do not respond to your email within 48 hours, Monday through Friday, then please let me know.

Accommodations
UNCG seeks to comply fully with the American with Disabilities Act (ADA). Students requesting accommodation based on a disability must be registered with the Office of Accessibility Resources & Services in 215 Elliott University Center, 334-5440, http://ods.dept.uncg.edu/. If you have a documented disability and wish to discuss academic accommodations, please contact me as soon as possible.

VI. Grading Policies - - How will my performance be assessed?
Students earn grades based on the work they submit. UNCG defines the grading system for undergraduates as follows:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Grade</th>
<th>Description</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>A = Excellent</td>
<td>achievement of distinction in several if not all of the following aspects: 1) completeness and accuracy of knowledge; 2) intelligent use of knowledge; 3) independence of work; 4) originality.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>B = Good</td>
<td>general achievement superior to the acceptable standard defined as C. It involves excellence in some aspects of the work, as indicated in the definition of A.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>C = Average</td>
<td>indicates the acceptable standard for graduation from UNCG. It involves such quality and quantity of work as may fairly be expected of a student of normal ability who gives to the course a reasonable amount of time, effort, and attention</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>D = Lowest passing grade</td>
<td>work that falls below the acceptable standards defined as C but which is of sufficient quality and quantity to be counted in the hours of graduation if balanced by superior work in other courses.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>F = Failure</td>
<td>indicates failure that may not be made up except by repeating the course</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Grading Scale
A 100-93  B+ 89-87  C+ 79-77  D+ 69-67  F = 59 and below
B  86-83  C  76-73  D  66-63
A-  92-90  B- 82-80  C- 72-70  D- 62-60

Types of Assignments & Grade Breakdown for the Course
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Assignment</th>
<th>Percentage</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Quizzes</td>
<td>20%</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

There are three types of quizzes in this class: 1) the pre-test / post-test, 2) the syllabus quiz, and 3) the reading quizzes.

1) The Pre-test/Post-test is a tool I use to measure how much students know about course content at the beginning of the semester and how much they have learned by the end. Students take this multiple-choice quiz online during the first week of class. It does not count against you, and there is no penalty for earning a low grade. During the last week of class, students complete the same quiz, and I compare the pre-test and post-test scores.

2) The syllabus quiz ensures students are familiar with all course policies, requirements, and expectations. Students may take it as many times as they need to in order to earn a perfect score. This quiz does not count toward students’ overall Quiz average. However, students who earn a 100 on this quiz will be able to drop their lowest reading quiz grade.

3) The reading quizzes cover material from the textbook. Each quiz is made up of multiple-choice questions. There is no time limit on these quizzes. Students may look at these questions before reading the chapter so that they will know what to focus on. However, students may only take each quiz once. Be certain to read the questions carefully before submitting your responses. Also, be sure to click the “Submit” button once you have completed each quiz.

Discussion / Participation 20% 1,2,3,4,5,6,7

Students should participate in all discussions by carefully reading and analyzing the assigned texts. I base this grade on my evaluation of your contributions to discussion. I look at how often you contribute to the conversation, but I also evaluate the quality of what you have to say. If you say a lot but add little substance to the dialogue, then your grade will be lower. Make your comments meaningful and thought-provoking.

Below is the rubric that I use to evaluate each student’s discussion / participation:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Grade</th>
<th>Description</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>5</td>
<td>Contributes readily to the conversation without dominating it, makes thoughtful comments and/or asks provocative questions that are relevant and advance the discussion, shows interest in and respect for others students’ views by responding to them, incorporates information from course readings and outside sources, makes comments that are a joy to hear and respond to</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4</td>
<td>Frequently makes useful and relevant comments (though they could be more original or sophisticated), shows interest in and respect for other students’ views by responding to them (though may occasionally dominate the conversation), attempts to incorporate information from course readings and may even reference outside sources</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3</td>
<td>Participates minimally, follows instructions but does little more, may dominate the conversation, may not show interest in or respect for other students’ views, may make token references to course readings that give the appearance of critical thinking/analysis</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2</td>
<td>May not participate consistently, may not follow instructions, comments may be off topic, distracting, and/or nonsensical, may not interact directly with the instructor or other students</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1</td>
<td>Does not participate in any meaningful way, fails to follow instructions or does not submit work on time, may violate the university’s academic integrity policy</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Thinking Like a Historian (TLAH) 30% 1,2,3,4,5

In order to succeed in this course, students must be fluent in the skills that historians use to analyze the past. These skills include:

1. Sourcing
2. Contextualizing
3. Close reading
4. Corroborating

Students will work in teams to analyze a series of sources using these historical thinking skills.

There are three TLAH assignments, corresponding to the 3 main modules (China, Japan, and Korea/Vietnam). TLAH 1 is worth 5%, TLAH 2 is worth 10%, and TLAH 3 is worth 15%

Past and Present Portfolio 30% 1,2,3,4,5,6,7

The portfolio assesses everything we have learned in this course, both in terms of content and historical thinking skills. At the midway point of the semester, each team will choose a current event related to China and explain why it is significant, and at the end of the course, each team will choose a current event related either to Japan or Korea.

In order to do well on this assignment, team members will need to utilize at least 3 historical sources from our class in order to provide context for the current event. These sources may help to back up the information in the current event, or they may actually contradict it. Either way, each team will provide a thoughtful and clear analysis that accurately explains why the event matters in light of what you have learned about East Asia's history.

The portfolio will …

1. Contain two current events on East Asia (one on China, the other on either Japan or Korea) with complete and accurate citations (sourcing)
2. Incorporate at least 3 primary sources for each current event (i.e. at least 6 sources in total) that help us make sense of these events (contextualizing)
3. Analyze the current events and the primary sources (close reading)
4. Explain any discrepancies between the current events and the primary sources (corroborating)
Students will work on the portfolio in stages. The first stage is due at the end of the module on China, while the second stage is due at the end of the course. With the exception of choosing the current events, the elements of each team's portfolio should come from course assignments and readings. There is no need to conduct outside research (though students may consult with the instructor about this).

VIII. Course Calendar* -- What are the assignments, and when are they due?
The course calendar lists every reading and assignment for the entire course. All due dates are listed online. I have organized the course into five modules. While the introductory module looks at East Asia as a whole, the remaining modules focus on a specific country from the 1800s to the present. As a result, there will be some overlap between modules, but hopefully this will reinforce the material.

There is a lot of reading in this course. Please do not feel like you have to understand every person, place, event, or idea. Instead, what did you take away from the readings? What struck you as interesting, odd, or confusing? Focus on what stands out to you, and then please share your unique perspective with the rest of the class when we discuss these readings. Your point of view matters!

 I reserve the right to modify the course calendar in order to improve student learning. I will announce any changes in advance.

MODULE 0: INTRODUCTIONS

INTRODUCTIONS & BEFORE YOU BEGIN
Review the syllabus, and contact the instructor if you have any questions. Then read through the other assignments listed under “Before You Begin...”

Readings:
- Syllabus

Assignments (DUE by Wednesday, August 28):
- Beginning course survey
- Pre-test multiple choice
- Past Experience in History Classes

BUILDING COMMUNITY (PART I)
Go to Canvas and click on “Defining East Asia” to read various definitions of East Asia. Then go to Discussions and click on “Defining East Asia.” Then create a new discussion board post and answer, 1) Which definition is the best?, 2) How would you define East Asia in your own words?

Afterwards, visit the “Thinking Historically” page to read about the critical thinking skills we will be using in this course (and you can use these skills in any field, not just history).

Readings:
- Instructions – Ice Breaker & Questions? Forums
- Defining East Asia
- Thinking Historically

Assignments (DUE on Friday, August 30):
- Ice Breaker – Discussion Board
- Defining East Asia -- Discussion Board

Monday, Sept. 2: Labor Day Holiday – NO CLASSES
BUILDING COMMUNITY (PART II): TEAMS

I will assign each student to a team, which you will be in for the entire course. Please click on the “Teams” page under “Building Community” to learn more. You will need to work with your teams to complete the next assignment.

Does East Asia Matter?

As a team, locate a current event news article on East Asia (A simple Google search is fine, but you may also go to Canvas and click on the section called “News Sites on East Asia” to access the most credible news websites). Log in to Canvas, go to Discussions, and click on “Does East Asia Matter?” Create a new discussion board post, include the link to your news article, and state:

1. Why did you choose this article?
2. What do you like about this topic?
3. What did you not understand about it?

After creating your own post, read other teams' posts. and click the thumbs-up (“Like”) button at the bottom of those posts that you enjoyed reading the most.

Also, be sure to finish the syllabus quiz and earn a 100 by the end of the day. You must earn a 100 before you can progress through the online course.

Readings:

- Does East Asia Matter?

Readings:
- Concluding Thoughts
Assignments (DUE on Thursday, Dec. 5):
  o  Post-test Multiple Choice
  o  Course Evaluation

PORTFOLIO
As a team, locate a current event news article on either Japan, Korea, or Vietnam. Using a Google doc (so that the instructor can see how everyone contributed to the assignment), complete the following:

1. Include the link to your news article
2. Create a full and complete citation based on Chicago/Turabian style
3. Summarize the article’s content
4. Explain how the article connects to at least three course readings (not including the textbook)
5. Write discussion questions that you would ask the rest of the class about this article and how it relates to China’s history. Each team member should write one question
6. Use the instructor’s feedback to revise your original portfolio submission on China. Make changes and include it in the final portfolio. Your FINAL portfolio will thus include 2 current events and at least 6 historical sources (not including the textbook).

After you are finished, please share the Google doc with the instructor.

Additionally, save the Google doc as a Word doc (.doc, or .docx) and upload it through Canvas so that Turnitin.com can scan your team’s work to make sure it is original.

Assignments (DUE on Wednesday, Dec. 11):
  o  Past and Present Portfolio (Final)
  o  Peer Evaluation
