Course Description
Russia is one of the most influential countries in the world and it has had a fascinating and difficult history. This course introduces students to the issues and debates raised in that history from its origins in roughly the ninth century until the eve of the 20th century. We will examine Russia’s history, as much as possible, through the eyes of those who lived it, thereby acquiring a fuller understanding of Russia today. The course is divided into two sections: Early Russia to 1700; and Imperial Russia 1700-1900. Relying largely on primary sources, we will approach the subject material from several perspectives, including political, social, economic, and cultural history, with a number of themes in mind: state and society; ideology/religion; family/gender; social class; and war and peace.

STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES
Upon successful completion of this course students will be able to:

➢ Comprehend that history is not the memorization of dates, names, and facts, but rather the interpretation of the past.
➢ Critically appraise varying historical arguments and formulate their own interpretations.
➢ Analyze the key terms, issues, and events in early Russian history and thereby gain an informed historical perspective.
➢ Identify the main claims, thesis, logical structure, and evidence base in a scholarly interpretation and recognize competing historical interpretations among scholars.
➢ Interpret history through primary source material by identifying the author(s), purpose(s), literal meaning(s), point(s) of view, biases and omissions in such texts.
➢ Analyze historical duration, succession, and change in terms of human agency and larger systems or structures in a wide variety of places and periods.
➢ Critically read and distinguish between different types of historical sources and “read between the lines” of differing points of view.

Course Readings:
• Online material designated below

Course Activities:
Participation 40%
Midterm Exam/Take Home Essay 30%
Final Exam/Take Home Essay 30%

Participation: The 40% class participation grade consists of Worksheets and Reaction Pieces (1-2 pages double-spaced). The RPs are intended to be your reaction to or opinion of the assigned reading supported by specific evidence from the text, not a summary of the reading. Where an RP is assigned for more than one reading either respond to those readings separately or tie them together, but be sure to address all assigned readings in the RP and draw on specific evidence from each of them. There are questions on the readings for guidance on Canvas.

Exams: There is a midterm exam and a final exam (each worth 30%) for the class. The exams are comprised of Identifications and Short Answer Questions based on course material and readings. The exams will both be online with a Take Home Essay to be turned in on exam day; each essay, the topics for which are listed below, is worth 10% of the overall exam grade. The exams cover only the part of the course for which they are designated (Midterm: Early Russia-1700; Final: Imperial Russia 1700-1900), so they are not cumulative, except that the topics for the Final Exam Take Home Essay cover the entire course.

Grading: Grades are compiled on a point system (you can keep up with your grades on Canvas). For example, if you make 80 on the midterm (16/20) + 87 on the midterm Take Home Essay (8.7/10) + an 88 on participation (35.2/40) + 84 on the final exam (16.8/20) + 90 on the final Take Home Essay (9/10) your final grade = 85.7/B

Required UNCG Syllabus Language: Approved by the Faculty Senate on July 1, 2020
As UNCG returns to face-to-face course offerings in fall 2020, the campus community must recognize and address concerns about physical and emotional safety. As such, all students, faculty, and staff are required to uphold UNCG’s culture of care by actively engaging in behaviors that limit the spread of COVID-19. Such actions include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Wearing a face covering that covers both nose and mouth
- Observing social distance in the classroom
- Engaging in proper hand washing hygiene when possible
- Self-monitoring for symptoms of COVID-19
- Staying home if you are ill
- Complying with directions from health care providers or public health officials to quarantine or isolate if ill or exposed to someone who is ill.

Instructors will have seating charts for their classes. These are important for maintaining appropriate social distance during class and facilitating contact tracing should there be a confirmed case of COVID-19. Students must sit in their assigned seat at every class meeting and must not move furniture. Students should not eat or drink during class time.

A limited number of disposable masks will be available in classrooms for students who have forgotten theirs. Face coverings will also be available for purchase in the UNCG Campus Bookstore. Students who do not follow masking and social distancing requirements will be asked to put on a face covering or leave the classroom to retrieve one and only return when they follow these basic requirements to uphold standards of safety and care for the UNCG community. Once students have a face covering, they are permitted to re-enter a class already in progress. Repeated issues may result in conduct action. The course policies regarding attendance and academics remain in effect for partial or full absence from class due to lack of adherence with face covering and social distancing requirements.

For instances where the Office of Accessibility Resources and Services (OARS) has granted accommodations regarding wearing face coverings, students should contact their instructors to develop appropriate alternatives to class participation and/or activities as needed. Instructors or the student may also contact OARS (336-334-5440) who, in consultation with Student Health Services, will review requests for accommodations.

Approved by the Faculty Senate Executive Committee on July 30, 2020:
Health and well-being impact learning and academic success. Throughout your time in the university, you may experience a range of concerns that can cause barriers to your academic success. These might include illnesses, strained relationships, anxiety, high levels of stress, alcohol or drug problems, feeling down, or loss of motivation. Student Health Services and The Counseling Center can help with these or other issues you may experience. You can learn about the free, confidential mental health services available on campus by calling 336-334-5874, visiting the website at https://shs.uncg.edu/ or visiting the Anna M. Gove Student Health Center at 107 Gray Drive. For undergraduate or graduate students in recovery from alcohol and other drug addiction, The Spartan Recovery Program (SRP) offers recovery support services. COVID-19 Spartan Shield Video UNCG Chancellor Frank Gilliam has challenged us to create a Culture of Care at UNCG where we all wear face coverings and social distance, less to protect ourselves but rather more to protect everyone around us. It shows that you care about the wellbeing of everyone around you. We have created this video featuring your student body presidents to better explain how and why this is so important. MIDTERM EXAM Take Home Essay Question (worth 10% of the overall course grade) (12-point font, 3-5 pages double-spaced):

Drawing on at least three sources from the course (which can include video material), defend one of these two statements:

1. The role of the Russian Church prior to the 17th century is often exaggerated by historians, perhaps because most of the sources they have to work with are from a religious point of view. In fact, Christianity did not greatly influence the lives of the vast majority of the Russian people, many of whom clung to pagan beliefs and superstitions along with (or instead of) a quasi-Christian faith, and some of whom actually resented the Church for adding to their economic difficulties by requiring tithes and payment for weddings or funeral rites, etc.

OR

2. Almost as soon as Eastern Orthodox Christianity took root in Russia it became a dominant force in shaping the political history of the state, as well as influencing the lives and culture of the country’s inhabitants. Its role cannot be overestimated; the Russian Church is the one constant through the otherwise dramatically different eras of Kievan Rus, Novgorod, the Mongol yoke, and the rise of Muscovy right down to the establishment of the Russian Empire at the beginning of the 18th century.

Part II: Imperial Russia 1700-1900

FINAL EXAM Take Home Essay Question (worth 10% of the overall course grade) (12-point font, 3-5 pages double-spaced):

Choose one of the following questions:

1. Drawing on no fewer than three different sources from the course (at least one of which must come from before the Midterm Exam), describe life for Russia’s peasant-serfs between roughly 1000 and 1900. What are some of the key factors shaping life for the peasant-serfs and how do they interact with the nobility? How do Russia’s peasant-serfs respond to their conditions in life, and how does their position change over time?

OR

2. Drawing on no fewer than three different sources from the course (at least one of which must come from before the Midterm Exam), describe life for Russian women between roughly 1000 and 1900. What are some of the key factors shaping gender relations (i.e. how do men and women interact)? How do Russian women react or respond to their conditions, and how, if at all, does their position change over time?
