Introduction:

How is Modern China “modern”? We need to look behind the headlines to understand fully how China has changed over the past two hundred years. This course will examine the political, intellectual and social development of China since ca. 1800. Attention will be given to traditional Chinese culture and society, peasant revolutions, the May Fourth Movement, the rise of nationalism and communism, and domestic developments since the 1949 founding of the People’s Republic of China. Comparing and analyzing a variety of primary source materials, we will write our own history of China and in the end develop our skills in observing societies with different origins than our own.

Students taking this course should reach the following goals by the end of the semester:

1. Analyze historical duration, succession, and change in terms of human agency and larger systems or structures in a wide variety of places and periods. [Historical Comprehension]
2. Use historical thinking to contextualize and analyze primary and secondary sources representing different points of view. [Historical Analysis: Departmental and GEC HP goal]
3. Conduct original research by investigating and interpreting primary and secondary sources. [Historical Research]
4. Use evidence-based reasoning to interpret the past coherently while developing and presenting an original argument, orally and in writing. [Historical Interpretation: Departmental and GEC HP]

COURSE INFORMATION

Course Requirements:

There will be a “take home” final exam, an ungraded “history skills” quiz, five graded quizzes, and two 5-7 page (12-point font Times New Roman font, double-spaced, 1” margins) “think piece” papers. The first “think piece” paper will be due in class on Thursday, October 21st. The second paper is due in class on Tuesday, November 23rd. The due date of the final “take home” exam is Tuesday, December 7th at 3 p.m. in office at MHRA 2121. Attendance at all lecture and discussion sections is expected; an attendance list may be compiled at the start of each class meeting. Moreover, the completion of all required written assignments is necessary for a passing grade. There will be no “incompletes” granted in this class, so please plan ahead!

E-mail Accounts:

I will require that all students to access their UNCG e-mail accounts regularly. This course will involve frequent interaction between the instructor and students outside of the in-person lecture periods. If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact me.

COVID-19 Course Requirements:

As we return for fall 2021, the campus community must recognize and address continuing concerns about physical and emotional safety, especially as we will have many more students, faculty, and staff on campus than in the last academic year. As such, all students, faculty, and staff are required to uphold UNCG's culture of care by actively engaging in behaviors that limit the spread of COVID-19. Such actions include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Following face-covering guidelines
- Engaging in proper hand-washing hygiene when possible
- Self-monitoring for symptoms of COVID-19
- Staying home if you are ill
- Complying with directions from health care providers or public health officials to quarantine or isolate if ill or exposed to someone who is ill.

Instructors will have seating charts for their classes. These are important for facilitating contact tracing should there be a confirmed case of COVID-19. Students must sit in their assigned seats at every class meeting and must not move furniture. Students should not eat or drink during class time.

To make it easier for students to hear their instructor and/or read lips and if conditions permit, instructors who are fully vaccinated and who can maintain at least six feet of distance from students may remove their masks while actively teaching if they choose, but will wear a mask at all other times while in the classroom, including during the periods before and after class

A limited number of disposable masks will be available in classrooms for students who have forgotten theirs. Face coverings will also be available for purchase in the UNCG Campus Bookstore. Students who do not follow masking requirements will be asked to put on a face covering or leave the classroom to retrieve one and only return when they follow the basic requirements to uphold standards of safety and care for the UNCG community. Once students have a face covering, they are permitted to re-enter a class already in progress. Repeated issues may result in conduct action. The course policies regarding attendance and academics remain in effect for partial or full absence from class due to lack of adherence with face covering and other requirements.

For instances where the Office of Accessibility Resources and Services (OARS) has granted accommodations regarding wearing face coverings, students should contact their instructors to develop appropriate alternatives to class participation and/or activities as needed. Instructors or the student may also contact OARS (336.334.5440) who, in consultation with Student Health Services, will review requests for accommodations.

You are responsible for anything that is covered in lectures, whether or not you viewed the lecture for a given class period. No make-up quizzes will be offered for this class. Instead, your lowest quiz grade will automatically be dropped from your cumulative course score, only if you have taken the ungraded skills quiz at the beginning of the semester. Once the first quiz is dropped, all subsequent missed quizzes will be graded at 0% credit.

Final Take-home Examination (Learning Goals 1, 4):

There is a 5 page, typed take-home exam. I will distribute on Canvas three or four questions on the last day of the course, and you will be required to construct an essay that clearly answers two of these questions while using the primary sources and secondary provided for the class. The exams will be due BY 3PM in MHRA 2121 on TUESDAY, DECEMBER 7th. We'll talk more about this exam later in the course.

CANVAS ASSIGNMENTS

Film Responses (Learning Goal 1):

Three in-class film screenings will take place throughout the semester. Written responses will always be due posted to Canvas the Monday evening at 11:59pm following the film screening. (Example. For the film available for viewing on Thursday, September 9, the written response is due Monday, September 13 by 11:59pm.) Prior to each screening, you will receive a film-guide handout featuring questions which address the film in terms of weekly course readings. You are expected to prepare well-written and thoughtful responses to each film guide, taking care to thoroughly answer all questions. A thorough response requires a minimum of one well-developed paragraph for each of 3-5 questions present. These responses must be posted to the appropriate forum on Canvas by the following Monday at midnight. These due dates are listed on the Canvas forums themselves. All film responses are required assignments.

*If you miss an in-class film screening, the films are located on reserve at the circulation desk of the Jackson Library.

Discussion Questions and Discussion Reflections (Learning Goals 1, 2, 4):

Many Thursdays we'll have in-person discussions in the classroom, and you will also be enrolled through Canvas in several smaller groups in the classroom to discuss primary and secondary sources illustrative of themes in this course. In preparation for these discussions, please post a brief passage from an assigned reading. You don't say why you chose the passage. The passage may be a point that confused you, summarized an important point perfectly, or it may be a point that you completely disagree with. Please post your passage to the appropriate forum on Canvas by the preceding Wednesday evening at 11:59pm.

Following your Thursday in-person discussion, please offer on Canvas in the relevant discussion thread your interpretations of at least two passages offered by two different classmates and comment on at least two interpretations you received for your passage. Please post your interpretations by Friday at 11:59pm.

During the weekend you are responsible for submitting a one-paragraph (3-5 sentences) discussion reflection, reveal the reasoning behind your choice as well as your reactions to other student comments. These reflections must be posted to the appropriate forum on Canvas by the following Monday evening at 11:59pm. Were there points in the passage that you wish had been discussed or elaborated upon in greater depth? Have you come to a new understanding of the passage (or the article) since the Thursday meeting? If so, please feel free to note those points here. The written exercises will be graded on a 6-point scale. If you receive straight "fours" for all exercises, you will have earned a "B" for this part of the course. To earn a "six" you need to demonstrate that you have thought imaginatively about the question and have put some genuine effort into your answer. The purpose of these exercises is to gain experience in reading, analyzing and writing, and they should therefore help prepare you for the paper and the take-home exam.

Discussion Questions and Reflections will be evaluated together as one assignment by your instructor. Late submissions will receive no credit. You are required to submit at least 8 (eight) Discussion Questions and Reflections during the semester to receive a passing grade.

*If you are unfamiliar with Canvas, it is your responsibility to learn to use this online learning tool.

"Think Piece" Papers (Learning Goals 1, 2, 4):

The two "think piece" papers, to be written on assigned topics, will be based on your readings, discussions and the lectures. The first paper will focus on documents from The Search for Modern China: A Documentary Collection and the China Monthly Review, a journal available on-line through the Jackson Library. The second paper will focus on Dychtwald's Young China: How the Restless Generation Will Change Their Country and the World. and other course materials. These papers are not full-fledged research papers; therefore, no additional outside reading is required. However, the quality of your writing, particularly the clarity and persuasiveness of your argument, will factor into the final grading. Papers will be due, both posted to Canvas's "Turnitin" and in class, on the dates indicated in the syllabus. Late papers will be penalized half a letter grade for each day beyond the original due date.

Academic Integrity Policy:

In this class I expect that everyone will abide by the UNCG Student Code of Conduct when submitting all assignment to avoid plagiarizing the work of others and to avoid the appearance of plagiarism.
