

History 340-01: United States Since World War II (Fall 2022)

Professor David M. Wight (dmwight@uncg.edu)

Office Hours: by appointment via Zoom

STRUCTURE & SCOPE

Welcome! This course is centered around changes in the nature and application of the power of the US federal government both domestically and internationally since World War II. In 1945 Americans celebrated the defeat of fascism and a return to peacetime and a booming economy. In short order, however, new challenges and opportunities arose for the United States at home and abroad. In the following decades, Americans debated and acted upon these issues. The Democratic and Republican parties struggled over the direction of the country's political programs, with visions that ranged from Lyndon B. Johnson's Great Society to Reaganomics. Activists contested the legal, social, and cultural standing of minorities, women, and the environment. And Americans grappled with how to wield US power abroad during the Cold War and the Global War on Terror. This course will look at these major events and the debates Americans had within them.

REQUIRED MATERIALS

Beyond the necessary technology (see relevant section below), the only required course material that you will need to acquire is the film Network, directed by Sidney Lumet. One option is to rent or purchase it on YouTube Network. All other assigned readings will be provided as pdfs or weblinks within the course modules.

GRADING

Your final grade will be comprised of the following:

Reflections	25%
Discussion	30%
Paper 1	15%
Paper 2	15%
Paper 3	15%

Grades follow this scale: A = 93 and up; A- = 90-92; B+ = 87 to 89; B = 83-86; B- = 80-82; C+ = 77-79; C = 73-76; C- = 70-72; D+ = 67-69; D = 63-66; D- = 60-62; F = <60

OFFICIAL LEARNING GOALS FOR THE COURSE

General Education Historical Perspectives (GHP) Student Learning Outcomes:

1. Use a historical approach to analyze and contextualize primary and secondary sources representing divergent perspectives.
2. Use evidence to interpret the past coherently, orally and/or in writing.

Reflections, discussions, presentations, and paper assignments measure the GHP Student Learning Outcomes.

READINGS, LECTURES, AND REFLECTIONS

What would be Monday's classes will be posted as videos for you to view on your own time; Wednesday's classes will be held from synchronously from 2:00 PM to 3:15 PM and dedicated to discussions (see below).

In each week's module there will be assigned readings and lecture videos. A module's readings and lecture videos will be posted by the Wednesday of the week of the preceding module if not earlier. For a full calendar of assigned readings, see the Weekly Reading List.pdf.

Starting week two, you are required to complete the week's readings and lectures and to submit a short writing reflection on them by the end of the Tuesday of that week. There will be a question posted to guide your reflection on the course materials for each week within the "Assignments" tab in the course menu on the left-side of Canvas; this is also where you will submit your reflection. You can also include in your reflection any questions you have about the readings, lecture, or the course in general. Late submissions for reflections will generally receive only half credit. For details, see the Reflections Instructions and Rubric.pdf.

DISCUSSION

A substantial portion of Wednesday classes will be dedicated time where you will be required to discuss the assigned readings and lecture videos for that week. If you arrive late, leave early, or are absent, your discussion grade for that day may be half or zero credit. You will be given one excused absence for any reason (i.e. your lowest discussion score will be dropped), but no more, so plan accordingly.

You are required to complete the readings and lecture videos listed for a discussion day before Wednesday classes. Most of that class will be devoted to you and your fellow colleagues discussing the readings and lecture videos for that day and how they relate to course themes, so if you do not read beforehand, you will not be able to engage in discussion with your colleagues or me in a meaningful way. Furthermore, you will receive partial credit for attendance, but you will not receive full discussion credit without regularly and thoughtfully participating in discussions about the readings in class. The aim is to have a discussion of ideas occur between your classmates, with limited guidance from me. You will earn points based on the quality, rather than the quantity, of your remarks. Comments with specific examples that demonstrate you have thoughtfully read assigned materials will earn points; off-topic or vague comments will not. Constructive responses to your classmates, which show you are listening and considering their opinions whether you agree or disagree with them, are especially encouraged.

Common sense respect is required. Likewise, when discussing ideas, you are required to be respectful of other people's arguments. Critiques and disagreements over the ideas we discuss are expected and even encouraged, but this does not permit anyone to be offensive or abusive toward others. I reserve the right to remove anyone from class for disrespectful behavior.

PAPERS

You will have three paper assignments in this class. Each paper will be 5 pages, double spaced, begin with a clear thesis that responds to the prompt, and have thoughtful examples and analysis that demonstrates your thesis. Late submissions of papers will result in a loss of one percent of the paper's total value per day late. If you experience an extenuating circumstance, let me know as early as possible, and at my discretion some or all point deductions might be waved.

Details on prompts, instructions, and grading criteria for each paper will be posted as we near the start of the assignment under either the "Paper 1," "Paper 2," or "Paper 3" document under the "Files" tab on Canvas.

STUDENT TO STUDENT MESSAGE BOARD

If you click on the "Discussions" tab you will see a pinned discussion titled "Student to Student Message Board." This is a place where students can post or reply to messages about anything related to the course. It is intended as a way for students to connect and collaborate, such as forming a study group.

ETIQUETTE

Throughout the course, whether in video meetings, online discussion boards, or assignments, you are required to be respectful of other people and their arguments. Critiques and disagreements over the ideas we discuss are expected and even encouraged, but this does not permit anyone to be offensive or abusive toward others. I reserve the right to remove anyone from class for disrespectful behavior; your TAs have the same authority for their sections.

General behaviors to avoid include (but are not limited to): flaming, doxing, using or posting offensive images or language that is outside the scope of course materials, posting suspicious websites, and advertising yours or others' businesses or products.

TECHNOLOGY

This course requires the capability of the student to use and regularly access a computer, a word processor, pdf files, the internet (including videos), and a webcam. The UNCG library is a resource for technology access.

On protecting your personal data and privacy, see https://policy.uncg.edu/university-policies/acceptable\_use/.

If you encounter a technology problem, contact UNCG Information Technology Services as soon as possible. They have online, phone and walk-in options for technical support, all listed here: <https://its.uncg.edu/Help/>. If a technology problem poses the possibility of preventing you from completing coursework, communicate this to myself and your TA as soon as possible, too, so we can see if we can mitigate any negative impacts on your learning and grade.

ACADEMIC RESOURCES

UNCG provides a variety of useful services for you, the student. Check them out!

The UNCG Library (<https://library.uncg.edu/>) has a wealth of books, articles, archival materials, and other media resources, computers, inter-library loan services, and knowledgeable staff.

The UNCG Writing Center (<https://writingcenter.uncg.edu/>) provides assistance with writing assignments; contact staff members to set an appointment either in person or via instant-messaging.

The UNCG Speaking Center (<https://speakingcenter.uncg.edu/>) provides assistance in improving your skill and confidence in public, group, and individual speaking.

If you have any needs or questions related to disability issues, please contact the Office of Accessibility Resources and Services (OARS) (<https://ods.uncg.edu/>). I prioritize making this course accessible to all of the students in it, and I will work with OARS to accommodate students' requests. You do not need to disclose details about your disability to me or your TA to receive accommodations.

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY

The University of North Carolina at Greensboro prohibits any and all forms of academic dishonesty. It is the student's responsible to know what constitutes academic integrity and academic dishonesty, and to be familiar with UNCG policies on academic integrity laid out here: <https://sa.uncg.edu/handbook/academic-integrity-policy/>. Students who engage in an academically dishonest act (such as plagiarizing part of a paper or cheating during an exam) will receive a grade of "F" in the course and be reported to the Academic Dean for possible additional disciplinary action, including expulsion from the university. Do not attempt it.

All writing assignments (reflections, papers, etc.) are subject to a plagiarism check through the website <https://www.turnitin.com/>. This website compares the text of your paper to text up on webpages, in scholarly works, and within its massive database of student papers submitted to schools around the world. If you purchase a paper to pass off as your own, it is possible the paper may contain portions reused and sold to other students as well. So do not plagiarize or purchase papers, whether only a portion of your paper or its entirety.

COMMUNICATION

I will make periodic announcements regarding important information about the course, accessible in the "Announcements" tab. Likewise, I will provide feedback on assignments under comments. I might also send you a message via Canvas or an email to your UNCG email address if needed. It is your responsibility to monitor and read all of these communications in a timely manner.

I am happy to answer your questions by email or message in Canvas. Please allow me a full day to respond (or two on weekends and holidays), but I'll usually reply sooner.

I also encourage you to meet with me at my office hours or at another arranged time. My office hours will be held via Zoom; go to the Zoom tab to schedule or launch an appointment.

SYLLABUS MODIFICATIONS

I reserve the right to modify or alter any part of the syllabus as the course progresses. It is your responsibility to keep up with class announcements about any alterations.

GENERAL AND COVID-19 HEALTH INFORMATION

Health and well-being impact learning and academic success. Throughout your time in the university, you may experience a range of concerns that can cause barriers to your academic success. These might include illnesses, strained relationships, anxiety, high levels of stress, alcohol or drug problems, feeling down, or loss of motivation. Student Health Services and The Counseling Center can help with these or other issues you may experience. You can learn about the free, confidential mental health services available on campus by calling 336-334-5874, visiting the website at <https://shs.uncg.edu/> (Links to an external site.) or visiting the Anna M. Gove Student Health Center at 107 Gray Drive. For undergraduate or graduate students in recovery from alcohol and other drug addiction, The Spartan Recovery Program (SRP) offers recovery support services. You can learn more about recovery and recovery support services by visiting <https://shs.uncg.edu/srp> (Links to an external site.) or reaching out to recovery@uncg.edu

As we return for Fall 2022, all students, faculty, and staff and all visitors to campus are required to uphold UNCG's culture of care by actively engaging in behaviors that limit the spread of COVID-19. While face-coverings are optional in most areas on campus, individuals are encouraged to wear masks. All individuals and visitors to campus are asked to follow the following actions:

- Engaging in proper hand-washing hygiene.
- Self-monitoring for symptoms of COVID-19.
- Staying home when ill.
- Complying with directions from health care providers or public health officials to quarantine or isolate if ill or exposed to someone who is ill.
- Completing a self-report when experiencing COVID-19 symptoms, testing positive for COVID-19, or being identified as a close contact of someone who has tested positive.
- Staying informed about the University's policies and announcements via the COVID-19 website.

Students who are ill, quarantining, or isolating should not attend in-person class meetings, but should instead contact their instructor(s) so alternative arrangements for learning and the submission of assignments can be made where possible.

As we continue to manage COVID-19 on our campus, we are following the lead of the local health department and we will adjust our plans to balance student success, instructional requirements, and the hallmarks of the collegiate experience with the safety and wellbeing of our campus community.
