Reading List:

1. Books to be purchased:

Dorinda Outram, The Enlightenment (Cambridge)

Jeremy Popkin, A Short History of the French Revolution (Prentice Hall, Third Edition)

Lynn Hunt, Culture, Politics, and Class in the French Revolution (University of California, Twentieth Anniversary Edition)

2. On Electronic Reserve:

All the other readings are on Electronic Reserve (ER) and can be downloaded by going to the Library home page, clicking on "Reserves" and entering HIS567.

Course Requirements

1. Attendance is required not optional. The class depends on your regular attendance and participation. Only officially certified absences will be accepted. All unexcused absences will affect your grade. Beyond two, they will seriously affect your grade.

2. Examinations. A mid-term and a final. Essay format. The final examination will be given on the last day of class.

3. Semester Paper

-Requirements for Undergraduate Students. Recommended length: eight pages. All papers should be typed, double-spaced, and fully documented. The topic should be an interpretive problem, selected from topics covered on the course syllabus, and approved by me. The vehicle for this approval will be a short but thoughtfully-conceived and well-written prospectus describing your interpretive problem. You should also include a short bibliography indicating the sources that you intend to use. These sources must include at least one book and two articles beyond the assigned course reading. All sources must be serious pieces of historical scholarship (if in question, check with me). All "due dates" (see below) are, barring certified medical emergencies, to be taken seriously.

-Requirements for Graduate Students. Recommended length: ten to twelve pages. All papers should be typed, double-spaced, and fully documented. The topic should be an interpretive problem, selected from material covered in the course, and approved by me. The vehicle for this approval will be a short but thoughtfully-conceived and well-written prospectus describing your interpretive problem. You should also include a short bibliography indicating the sources that you intend to use. These sources must include at least three books and three articles beyond the assigned course reading. All sources must be serious pieces of historical scholarship (if in question, check with me). All "due dates" (see below) are, barring certified medical emergencies, to be taken seriously.

4. Discussion. The readings are keyed to syllabus topics. You should have the readings completed before the day a particular topic is to be discussed in class. Your discussion grade will be determined by the frequency and quality of your contribution to class discussion.

5. Grades. The following elements will determine your final grade:
mid-term exam--30%
final exam--30%
paper--30%
discussion grade--10%
