The World in the Twentieth Century: 1900-1945

Instructor: Mr. D. Todd Miller
E-mail: dtmiller@uncg.edu

Office: MHRA 3103

Office Hours: Monday and Wednesday, 10:45 am-11:45 am, or by appointment

Class Meets Tuesday/Thursday, 2:00-3:15, MHRA 1215

Course Description:

This course is designed to offer a general understanding of the major events and concepts that have shaped the world between the end of the nineteenth century to 1945. This will be accomplished through examination of economic, political, and social changes.

Since proper historical examination goes well beyond dates and figures, concepts, themes, and outcomes will be emphasized. The course will be taught by utilizing readings, lectures, PowerPoint presentations, and carefully selected films.

Goals and Objectives:

Upon completion of this course students:

- should possess a factual knowledge of world history from 1900-1945
- should be able to explain the concepts of nationalism, imperialism, and expansionism as they apply to the world in a global context
- should know how to use historical analysis to understand the lives of common people of different races, ethnicities, classes, and genders in the past
- should have developed the ability to read and think critically about history
- should be able to express ideas in a logical, clear, and concise manner

Readings (reading assignments are mandatory, unless stated otherwise):

- Adas, Michael, Peter N. Stearns, and Stuart B. Schwartz. Turbulent Passage: A Global History of the Twentieth Century. 4th edition. Upper Saddle River, NJ: Pearson-Longman, 2009.
- Two (2) books of your choice from a list of options

Grading:

There will be no grading curve in this course. The following grading scale will be used to evaluate student performance:

100-98 A+, 93-97 A, 90-92 A-, 88-89 B+, 83-87 B, 80-82 B-, 78-79 C+, 73-77 C, 70-72 C-, 68-69 D+, 63-67 D, 60-62 D-, 59 and below F.

If you must miss an exam, please arrange to make it up with me ahead of time. Except in extenuating circumstances, I do not accept late assignments; if you know you will be absent on the due date, submit the assignment early, or make other arrangements with me.

The final grade will be based on the performance of the following activities (see note below):

Exam One (Midterm)	= 25%
Exam Two (Final)	= 35%
Book Reviews (2 of these @ 15%)	= 30%
Class Attendance and Participation	= 10%

Please note:

1. There will be two exams (a Midterm and a Final) in this course. The exams will be primarily essay questions with some identification, short answers, and/or map questions. More details will be provided nearer to the exam time.
2. For the Book Reports, students will choose two (2) books on different subjects from the list provided. For each book, students will read carefully, and then write an essay of about four to five (4-5) pages, briefly summarizing the author's thesis, evidence, and use of the evidence, as well as the student's reaction to the book. Detailed instructions will be provided later in the semester.
3. "Attendance" means more than just being present bodily in the classroom. I expect you to pay attention to any learning experience, taking notes that will help you learn and assimilate the material. To this end, those students who choose to skip class, sleep during class, surf the internet, send text messages, or habitually leave class early (or enter class late) will be penalized.
4. "Participation" means that one is actively engaged in the task of learning. During lecture, this means taking notes and asking questions if you have them. During discussion, this means taking an active role in the class discussion and making meaningful contributions to it. The quality of your participation in discussions is much more important than quantity.

Summary of "Important" Dates:

Tuesday, February 1 - Deadline to select texts for Book Reports

Thursday, February 24 - Exam 1 (Midterm)

Tuesday, March 22 - Book Review 1 due

Thursday, April 21 - Book Review 2 due

Thursday, April 28 - Exam 2 (Final)

All assignments and exams in this course shall be completed under the tenets of the university's Academic Integrity Policy, found at

<http://academicintegrity.uncg.edu/complete/>

Please note that any violations will be handled in the manner prescribed by the Policy.

Class Schedule:

I will make every effort to adhere to the schedule below. However, as we live in a world of uncertainty and imperfection, I may announce the occasional change to this schedule. I believe it is best to complete the readings BEFORE attending the lecture, but this is up to your discretion.

Note: Please set cell phones to VIBRATE before class starts. During exam periods, cell phones must be TURNED OFF. In addition, you should plan to be in class for the entire period each day.
