The purpose of this course is to introduce graduate students to some of the most significant scholarly works and topics on the American Revolution. Students will critically analyze historical monographs through class discussion and written reviews and will write either a research paper based on primary and secondary sources or a historiographical paper.

Required books:
McDonnell, Michael A. The Politics of War: Race, Class, & Conflict in Revolutionary Virginia UNC, 2010
Calloway, Colin G. The American Revolution in Indian Country Cambridge, 1995
Purcell, Sarah J. Sealed with Blood: War, Sacrifice, and Memory in Revolutionary America Pennsylvania, 2002, 2010

Assignments:
Besides reading a book a week (or more) you will turn in a written review for three of the assigned books. In addition, one week you will lead discussion of the weekly readings in class. Class discussion is central to this course and will form a significant part of your grade. Finally, you will write a ~20 page research OR historiographical paper due at the end of the semester.

Doing the book reviews:
You will prepare professional-quality book reviews of each of your assigned weekly readings. Professional quality means that your review could be published in an academic history journal, and, thus, the review should expose the author’s thesis and main supporting points, discuss and evaluate the evidence presented by the author to prove his/her thesis, suggest how this book fits into the historiography on that subject, and tell who the author is. Do NOT tell me that the book is “interesting” for that means absolutely nothing. Do tell me why the book is important, what its flaws (if any) are, and why we must all be familiar with its thesis in order to better understand the American Revolution. Browse through the book reviews in the journals Reviews in American History, Journal of the Early Republic, William and Mary Quarterly (all are in the library or available online through the J-Stor database) for examples of what I am asking for. You may consult published reviews of the books you are working on, but do not copy and paste from them, as that is cheating, and I want to read your words not someone else’s. Each review should be double spaced and about 3 pages in length, no more than 4 pages and no less than 2.

Grading:
Written Reviews (3): 10% each 30%
Discussion Leadership 10%
Discussion Participation 10%
Topic and Bibliography for Paper .05% each 10%
Final Paper 40%
