HIS 211: The United States to 1865 Course Syllabus

For many years, historians focused on statesmen and other great men as the sole agents of change in American history. This course shifts focus to ordinary Americans and their efforts to shape their own history and the history of their nation. The goals of this course are to introduce students to the controversies, trends, events, and actors in the first half of American history and to familiarize students with the analytical skills employed in the study of history.

Course Requirements: The requirements for this course include assigned readings for each class, periodic assignments and quizzes on the assigned readings, one paper, and two exams. Assignments submitted in class are due at the beginning of the class period. Students who submit assignments after the deadline will be penalized with a grade deduction based on the lateness of the assignment. No assignments will be accepted one week after the due date. All assignments must be submitted in hard copy.

Sections: Students are required to sign up for a discussion section. Attendance in section each week is mandatory. The sections are scheduled as follows:

Fridays, 10:00 a.m. to 10:50 a.m., SOEB 219
Fridays, 10:00 a.m. to 10:50 a.m., STON 369
Fridays, 11:00 a.m. to 11:50 a.m., STON 369
Fridays, 11:00 a.m. to 11:50 a.m., EBER 554

Assigned Readings: There are two books assigned for this class: Paul E. Johnson and Sean Wilentz, The Kingdom of Matthias: A Story of Sex and Salvation in 19th-Century America (1995) and William L. Barney, The Making of a Confederate: Walter Lenoir's Civil War (2007). Both books can be purchased at the University Bookstore. Additional readings are on blackboard, e-reserves, and the internet. These readings will be linked to the Syllabus on Blackboard and listed under Course Documents on Blackboard as they become available. The assigned reading list may undergo minor changes, including the addition of primary source readings; students should be sure to consult the most current version of the Syllabus on Blackboard under Course Information.

Electronic Devices: The use of laptops, tablets, cellular phones, or any other type of electronic device is prohibited during class.

Attendance: Attendance in class is mandatory. The door will close ten minutes after class starts. Once the door closes, students will no longer be admitted to the class and will be considered absent. Each student is allowed three absences. After three unexcused absences, students will receive a zero for participation for that day. The instructor will excuse absences with a doctor's note or legitimate documentation of other emergencies. Students will be dropped from the class for excessive absences.

Late Assignments: All assignments must be submitted in hard copy. Unless otherwise specified on the syllabus, papers are due in class at the beginning of the class period. Students who submit assignments after the deadline will be penalized with a grade deduction based on the lateness of the assignment. No assignments will be accepted one week after the due date. If a student leaves a paper in the professor's mailbox, it is the student's responsibility to check that the professor has received the paper.

Plagiarism: The University defines plagiarism as "intentionally or knowingly representing the words of another, as one's own in any academic exercise."¹ (See the University's Academic Integrity Policies for further information.) All sources (books, articles, documents, internet sites, etc.) used in any paper or assignment must be properly cited or will be considered plagiarism. Any instance of plagiarism will receive a zero and will be referred to the Office of Student Conduct for appropriate action, including suspension or expulsion from the University.

Final Grade Composition

- Participation 15%
- Assignments 15%
- Midterm Exam 20%
- Final Exam 20%
- Paper 30%

Participation: Participation in discussion is mandatory. Students should be prepared to discuss the readings on the day that they are assigned. Attendance alone is not sufficient for full participation credit.

Assignments: Students will be given brief in-class and take-home writing and research assignments based on the assigned readings. Students will also be periodically quizzed on readings and lectures. There will be no make-up assignments in the case of a missed class.

Exams: There will be two exams in this class: one midterm exam on March 7 and one final exam on May 5.

Paper: Students are required to a ten- to twelve-page paper based on assigned readings and lectures. The paper is segmented with preliminary assignments, which allows students opportunities for feedback before submitting their final drafts. The first five- to seven-page segment of the paper is due on February 28 and the final ten- to twelve-page version is due on April 4. All sources in the paper must be properly cited according to the guidelines laid out in The Chicago Manual of Style, which is available on-line.
