Office Hours: By appointment. Please schedule appointments with me as often as you need. I am happy to meet with you individually whenever you need it!

Spring 2022 Course Delivery: This course is scheduled to be taught in-person and all participants are required to face coverings in the class at all times. Students are strongly encouraged to wear three-layer surgical-style face coverings in class which are available at designated on-campus locations. No food or drink (including water) is allowed in the class. The ongoing COVID-19 pandemic may require changes to our meeting plan; we will be monitoring the situation closely. If I need to change the format of the course temporarily due to outbreaks of illness, I will announce this via email and the course Canvas page.

Students who test positive: Students who test positive for COVID-19 are required to self-report and isolate per University guidelines. Students can still participate in class virtually. I will provide details on how students will continue to engage.

Course Description
In this course, we will explore Latin American history from independence to the late twentieth century. This course is broad, geographically and temporally, but no prior knowledge of Latin American history is necessary. Drawing upon primary documents, audio and visual materials, and secondary historical literature, this course will explore the nation-building process and the ways that ordinary people interacted with the state. We will also analyze the construction of racial, class, and gender hierarchies in various Latin American contexts. We draw from case studies and national histories, but we will place these historical moments within a global perspective, elucidating how Latin American actors shaped imperial practices, nation-state formation, revolutionary and counterrevolutionary dynamics during the Cold War, and innovative political practices against neoliberalism. In doing so, we will invert common perceptions of the region and understand Latin American actors in their own terms.

Course Readings:
There are no required textbooks for this course. All readings will be made available as PDFs on Canvas. Please check the Canvas site often!

Student Learning Outcomes (SLOs)

In this Global Engagement and Intercultural Learning course, students will:

1. Describe dynamic elements of different cultures. These elements may include (but are not limited to) aesthetic systems, communication systems, economics, physical environments, ethics, gender norms, geography, history, politics, religious principles, or social beliefs, norms and practices.
2. Explain how similarities, differences, and connections among different groups of people or environmental systems affect one another over time and place.

Course Objectives

By the end of the semester, students will:

- understand key moments in modern Latin American history and will be able to make historical arguments using the course materials.
- identify the key argument and supporting evidence in weekly assignments.
- integrate evidence from readings and formulate an informed and supported argument and articulate this argument both orally in class discussions and in writing.
- articulate multiple perspectives and interpretations of an historical moment.

PLEASE CHECK YOUR UNCG EMAIL & CANVAS ANNOUNCEMENTS

ASSIGNMENTS

1. Map Quiz
   Students will be required to identify all the countries of modern Latin America by name and location. Due: In class, January 21

2. Participation/Discussion Lead: SLO 1
   You are expected to actively participate in class discussions having completed the readings assigned for the day, with ideas and thoughts to share. To ensure you are grappling with the assigned readings, you will also choose ONE discussion day in which to lead discussion of primary sources and submit a short (one paragraph) source analysis. Details on Canvas.

3. Short Essays (SLOs 1 and 2)
   Students will write 3 short essays (2.0- 2.5 pages) over the course of the semester that will ask them to respond to a question pertaining to course readings and unit topics. Do NOT conduct outside research for these essays. You will be graded on your use of course material explicitly. Prompts will be provided two weeks in advance of due dates. The due dates are: February 14, March 4, and April 22.

4. Final Exam (SLOs 1 and 2)
   This exam will consist of short answer questions. Students will receive this prompt one week before the due date. This assignment assesses student learning related to SLOs 1 and 2 of the Global Engagement and Intercultural Learning. Students will be asked to think about change and continuity over time and consider how different local and historical conditions produced uneven development in Latin America.
   Due: May 2.

5. Attendance: You are expected to attend the entire class to be counted as present for that day. You are allotted three (3) unexcused absences. You need not ask for permission or provide documentation for those three missed classes. However, you are still responsible for any missed notes and for turning in assignments on time. All absences beyond the allotted three (3) will need to be excused and will require official documentation that validates your reason for missing class. Unless excused, absences beyond three class periods are considered excessive and will result in a 10% reduction of the grade for each missed class thereafter. After missing more than five (5) classes, excused or unexcused, I will ask you to drop the course. It is your responsibility to make up missed work within one week of the absence.

Should emergency situations arise, please communicate with me so we can make arrangements for make-up work

COURSE POLICIES

Late assignment policy, make-ups: Late assignments are accepted and will be penalized 10%, or one letter grade per day late. The one exception to this policy is the final exam, for which I will not accept late work. The map quiz cannot be made up unless pre-arranged with the professor.

Disruptive Behavior: Arriving late, packing up or leaving early, and talking during class are a few common examples of disruptive classroom behavior. These will not be tolerated.

Respectful engagement with peers: The classroom is an academically productive and safe environment for students to express their opinions and ask questions. History is controversial, and sensitive themes will be discussed in this class. Students are expected to treat their classmates with respect and maturity, and any behavior that inhibits productive academic engagement will not be permitted.

Contacting your Professor: Please call me Dr. or Professor Jashari (YA-SHAH-REE) and contact me via email (d_jashari@uncg.edu). During weekdays, you can expect a reply within 24 hours; on weekends, I will not reply. Please plan accordingly. Structure your emails in a professional way and be mindful of your tone.

Academic Integrity: I take violations of academic integrity very seriously. Please ask me if you have any questions about what constitutes plagiarism and know that it will not be tolerated in this classroom. Enrollment in this course and submission of each written assignment constitute students’ acceptance of UNCG’s Academic Integrity Policy. You can find a copy of the full policy at: http://academicintegrity.uncg.edu/complete/.

The following is the University’s definition of plagiarism:
Representing the words, thoughts, or ideas of another, as one’s own in any academic exercise. Plagiarism may occur on any paper, report, or other work submitted to fulfill course requirements. Faculty should take into account whether the student has had the opportunity to learn appropriate citation procedures based on previous course work successfully completed before formalizing Academic Integrity charges. Examples of plagiarism include, but are not limited to, the following:

- submitting work done by another, whether a commercial or non-commercial enterprise, including the Internet, as one’s own work
- failure to properly cite references and/or sources
- submitting, as one’s own, work done by or copied from another including work done by a fellow student, work done by a previous student, or work done by anyone other than the student responsible for the assignment

Office of Accessibility Resources and Services (ods.uncg.edu/): Students who have documented disabilities that require accommodation should register with OARS and bring in the required paperwork during the first week of class. No accommodations can be made without the appropriate paperwork from OARS.

Information Technology Services (its.uncg.edu/): Your source for all tech problems, including computer malfunctions, issues with Canvas, etc. The professor cannot help you with these!

University Writing Center (writingcenter.uncg.edu/): Provides help with paper structure, argument, grammar, style, etc.

COVID-19 University Policy

As we return for spring 2022, all students, faculty, and staff are required to uphold UNCG’s culture of care by actively engaging in behaviors that limit the spread of COVID-19. These actions include, but are not limited to:

- Following face-covering guidelines
- Engaging in proper hand-washing hygiene
- Self-monitoring for symptoms of COVID-19
- Staying home when ill
- Complying with directions from health care providers or public health officials to quarantine or isolate if ill or exposed to someone who is ill
- Completing a self-report when experiencing COVID-19 symptoms, testing positive for COVID-19, or being identified as a close contact of someone who has tested positive
- Staying informed about the University’s policies and announcements via the COVID-19 website

Instructors will have seating charts for their classes. These are important for facilitating contact tracing should there be a confirmed case of COVID-19. Students must sit in their assigned seats at every class meeting. Students may move their chairs in class to facilitate group work, as long as instructors keep seating chart records. Students should not eat or drink during class time.

A limited number of disposable masks will be available in classrooms for students who have forgotten theirs. Face coverings are also available for purchase in the UNCG Campus Bookstore. Students who do not follow masking requirements will be asked to put on a face covering or leave the classroom to retrieve one and only return when they follow the basic standards of safety and care for the UNCG community. Once students have a face covering, they are permitted to re-enter a class already in progress. Repeated issues may result in conduct action. The course policies regarding attendance and academics remain in effect for partial or full absence from class due to lack of adherence with face covering and other requirements.

For instances where the Office of Accessibility Resources and Services (OARS) has granted accommodations regarding wearing face coverings, students should contact their instructors to develop appropriate alternatives to class participation and/or activities as needed. Instructors or the student may also contact OARS (336.334.5440) who, in consultation with Student Health services, will review requests for accommodations.
